Lydia Dreams, a remarkably clever rentriloguist, presented a novel act in which she displayed marvellous talent.

Edward M. Favor and Edith StaClair presented a very good sketch, in which they did a number of quick changes.

The number contributed by the musical Kleists was indeed a novel act. The stage was dressed in a black setting, and the team gathered in the instruments used in the act apparently from the air. Electrical effects were employed to advantage.

Baidwin and Daly, the original "Happy Hottentots." were very interesting in their eccentric aerobatic act.

The Republican politicians are caracasing the field for a vice-presidential candidate. The understanding is that Vice-President Hobart's nealth will probably not admit of his again accepting a nomination, and that in making up the ticket a new name will have to be found. If Mr. Hobart's health were better, it is thought, there would be no opposition to his nomination, as he has made an exceptionally good record in the office and has the very high regard of all the senators. It is said, however, that his health does not improve satisfactorily enough to encourage the hope that he will feel well enough to enter into the campaign, and it is thought that he will, when the time comes, decline to be a candidate. On the assumption that this will be the case, a number of names are being considered among the men who usually have much to do with such matters, and it is said that there is a movement on foot in the interest of the candidacy of General Fred, Grant, the idea being to have him called from the field in the Philippines to take a place on the ticket with McKinley.

Mill Operatives Ask Wage-Increase.

FALL RIVER, MASS. October 30.—The mill operatives of Fail River, through their representatives in the textile council, to-day asked for an increase of 10 per cent, in wages, to take effect November 13th. The manufacturers, through the committee, replied that they had no power to grant the increase asked, but would refer the request back to their association for instructions. The conference lasted three hours, and the proceedings were harmonious and the discussion full.

along the Calumet river.

Geraghty entered the swamp early this morning, to hunt for reed birds. His dog, a magnificent Gordon setter, accompanied him. Shortly after noon he started homeward. Suddenly the furfous barking of the dog startled him, and he ran forward to find the animal literally exvered with muskrats, who were fighting desperately, bitting and squealing like mad. They nipped at the dog's eyes and caught his tongue in their sharp teeth. He seemed almost helpless, and Geraghty fived his shotgun at the little army of rodents, which came scampering to the scene, hoping to scare the ones which were fast killing his dog. He mowed down a dozen rats without appreciably decreasing their number. The dog at last succumbed, and the reinforcements, numbering a hundred, Geraghty says, turned their attention to him.

"They climbed through my clothes in no time and bit me savagely," said the operator in telling the story, "and the only thing that saved my life was the arrival of a couple of other hunters, who ran in with clubs and beat the little fellows off." Geraghty's story is corroborated by the hunters who rescued him. Muskrats in portions of the swamp are known to 12 numerous and occasionally belligerent, but this is said to be the first instance where they have attacked a man in any force. The New York Evening Post remarks: Apropos of Dewey, our English cousing are speculating on the American promis-ciation of his name. Mrs. Meynell writethat Americans invariably pronounce "o as "oo." farmers say they have no money to buy machinery, but have to plant by hand and to carry their produce on their backs to market, where they obtain little for it, owing to the fact that there is scarcely any duty on foreign grain.

The petition goes on to say that this condition of things greatly handicaps the Cubans in their attempts to recover a degree of their former prosperity.

Incidentally, the farmers protest against the protective duties on oil, alleging that these are in force solely to protect one American refinery, whereas a projective auty on corn "would mean the welfare of thousands of small farmers, whose only source of revenue is what they make Queen's English," "most common in th Tuesday 'Toosday'; reading to us that the clouds drop down the 'doo'; exhorting of And this is not from capacity to utter the sound, for thous many of these people call new 'no one ever yet called few 'foo,' but it arises THE 900-POINT BILLIARD MATCH. from defective education, or from gran Slosson Outplays Schnefer - 300
